PREFACE

The facts herein presented are in no sense meant as an extensive history of the Orangeburg Presbyterian Church. In assembling this data the author has had in mind the aim of presenting only the salient facts in the organization's history. For this reason he has purposely refrained from indulging the natural tendency to magnify or eulogize the several outstanding personalities which have been connected with the Church, both in official and non-official capacities. We revere the memories of these and the fact that no extended reference is made to their many noble traits is intended in no sense to detract from the glory which attaches to their honored and useful ministries.

THE AUTHOR.

In preparing the history of Orangeburg Presbyterian Church materials have been gathered from many sources. Much use has been made of a history of the Church written in 1896 by Ruling Elder John A. Hamilton. Recourse was also had to the Minutes of General Assembly, the History of the Presbyterian Church in South Carolina since 1850, edited by Drs. F. D. Jones and W. H. Mills, the historical data compiled by the Woman's Auxiliary, and the memory of persons now living.

ORGANIZATION*

Charleston Presbytery met at Orangeburg, S. C., with a view to founding a church at this point. On Saturday afternoon, May 2, 1835, the organization was effected. There were present, Rev. Dr. R. Post, of Circular Church, Charleston; Rev. Dr. W. C. Dana, of Central Church (now Westminster), Charleston; also Rev. B. Gilderslieve. The following persons were admitted to membership: Dr. James W. Taylor, M.D., Dr. T. A. Elliott, M.D., Mrs. Harriet Elliott, Mrs. Caroline Glover, Mrs. Elizabeth Jamison, Mrs. Elizabeth Rumph, Mrs. M. Jamison, Miss Rebecca Badger, Dr. V. D. V. Jamison, M.D., and Mr. James Taylor, by certificate; and by examination, the following: Mrs. Sophia M. Glover, Mrs. Mary Dwight, Mrs. Emma C. Legare, Mr. Sanders Glover, and Mr. John N. Barrillon: a total of fifteen earnest, hopeful members.

FIRST PASTOR AND ELDERS

On May 3rd, the following day, the Rev. I. S. Keith Legare was ordained and installed as pastor, and Drs. Thomas A. Elliott and James W. Taylor were ordained and installed as elders. The Rev. B. Gilderslieve preached from 2 Corinthians 5:20. Dr. Post delivered the charge to the pastor and Dr. Dana charged the people. The meeting being a regular appointment of Presbytery, the session closed with the usual exercises.

THE FIRST COMMUNION

The first celebration of the Lord's Supper took place on the third Sabbath of August, 1835. The Church was now in efficient working order. Owing to the importance of the location (this being the only Presbyterian Church between Charleston and Columbia) the Board of Domestic Missions assisted in the support of the Church for about two years. This help was discontinued in June, 1837, and the little Church was left to its own resources.

PROPERTY ACQUIRED

Early in the life of the young Church the Ladies Society became very active, which activity was prophetic of the continued support which has come from this and kindred organizations of the ladies of the Church. It was through this organization that the lot on which the Church now stands was purchased. Formerly, the lot extended considerably further, north, much of it being north of Amelia Street, which street was run through the property after it was purchased. The portion of the lot lying north of Amelia street was later transferred to Mr. Harpin Riggs to complete paying for a house of worship which had been erected.

NEGRO MEMBERSHIP

As was true of most Churches of this period, the Negro slaves of the members of the Church became full-fledged members of the Orangeburg Church, participating in the privileges of Church membership along with their masters' families. The gallery, a part of which still remains in the present building, is a relic of the days when master and man, mistress and maid as "the family" bowed before the same altar. The roll of Negro members increased along with the roll of white members until in 1865 there were 66 colored members. In July, 1866, these people withdrew to themselves. Efforts were made from time to time to assist them and provide much-needed training. The Synod, Presbytery and General Assembly urged the Churches to endeavor to fulfill their obligation to these people in spiritual things. In 1874, Mr. J. A. Hamilton established a Sunday School for them which was conducted regularly in the basement of the Church until they formed a Church of their own on Dickson street. This school ministered to approximately 70 members. Other efforts to provide them with trained white leaders until leaders of their own race could be developed met with failure due to the hysteria attending the period of reconstruction and the bitter feeling developed by deceiving propagandists, white and colored.

CHURCH BUILDINGS

From the date of organization until 1844 the little group of worshippers used a quaint old hiproof structure of Revolutionary times as a "meeting house". This building was known as the "Marchant House" and stood near the present intersection of Amelia and Windsor streets. It had during its history been made to serve as an English prison, court house, dwelling and Church building. In 1844 a place of worship was completed on the present Church property and this was used with much pleasure until December 15, 1857. On this date a fire of suspected incendiary origin completely destroyed the building. In less than sixty days the sum of $4,150 had been subscribed to replace the building. This new structure has been used, with several alterations and repairs, up to the present time. The Church property remained the same until August 8, 1929, when by agreement with the city a right of way was given the city for the extension of Doyle street through Church property, the city promising to pave the said extension and sidewalks in addition to bearing the expense of moving certain graves affected by the extension. In addition to the lot and Church building another lot and two frame buildings belong to the Church; the lot on Glover street given by Mr. Mortimer Glover, and the building erected largely by activities of the ladies of the Church, and the building on the corner of Amelia and Doyle streets. The latter was erected on the Church property by the late George H. Cornelson and left for the use of Mrs. Cornelson at whose death by agreement it became the property of the congregation.

THE CEMETERY

Between the Church building and Amelia street is the old cemetery where lie buried many of the city's oldest citizens as well as many of the first loyal supporters of this Church. It is interesting to note that out of the seven former pastors who served the congregation and who have passed to their reward three lie buried close to the Church which they loved and served. These are: Rev. Messrs. I. S. K. Legare, T. Hanscome Legare and John L. McLees. Besides these mention should be made of the fact that in this cemetery rest General David F. Jamison and Colonel Thomas J. Glover, both of whom won honor in the days just prior to and during the Civil War.

CHURCH OFFICERS

At the organization of the Church two elders were named. They were Dr. James W. Taylor (1835-1853) and Dr. Thomas A. Elliott (1835-1884). As the Church grew the number of elders increased. In addition to the above named elders the following have served as members of the session: Sanders Glover (1837-1853), V. D. V. Jamison (1853-1871), Dr. W. S. Dudley (1860-1867), A. Govan Salley (1860-1885), Dr. E. J. Oliveros (1871-1875), Mortimer Glover (1868-1921), John A. Hamilton (1880-1903), William Bird Thompson (1886-1827), George H. MEMBERSHIP

From the date of organization to the present time 666 white persons and 66 colored persons united with the Church. It is most interesting to note that, due to the faithfulness of those who have kept and preserved the records the name of every communicant of the Church from its origin is preserved and is a matter of record. This is considered quite unusual. This list is appended at the end of this history.

ORGANIZATIONS

One of the unique features of the organization of the Church is that the local congregation is under the Orangeburg Presbyterian Church Society. It was organized in 1835 and was incorporated by an act of Legislature in December, 1849. Its Charter was renewed in 1871 for a period of twenty-one years. It was chartered in perpetuity by the Secretary of State in 1899 and recorded by the Orangeburg Clerk of Court in 1900. The trustees elected by the Society are "to attend to the temporal interest of the Church."

Connected with the Church proper are the several phases of activity under separate organizations. The Sunday School, the Woman's Auxiliary and the Young People's League are active and have for many years made a very definite and vital contribution to the spiritual welfare and growth of the congregation.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

The first reference in the sessional records to the Sabbath School occurs in the minutes of the session held on February 4, 1873, and the reference there is that the welfare of this organization was discussed.

The following men have certainly served as superintendents of the School:

- Mr. Mortimer Glover (1865-1874).
- Mr. W. F. Hutson (1874-1879).
- Mr. J. A. Hamilton (1879-1894).
- Mr. W. B. Thompson (1894-1922).
- Mr. W. L. Moseley (1922-1928).
- Mr. H. B. Pitts (1928-1932).
- Mr. Dwight Moseley (1932-Present).

Mr. Glover in submitting his resignation as Superintendent of the School on November 10, 1874, made the statement that he had served in this capacity more than nine years.

The first narrative report of the session to Presbytery relating to the Sabbath School appears in the minutes of the session under the date of April 21, 1879. Among other things reported there was a total enrollment of 41 representing 35 pupils and 6 officers and teachers. The average attendance was placed at 31. Total contributions were listed as $47.38.

Partial records for the school for 1885 and succeeding ten year periods follow:

Year	Enrollment		Av. Att.	Contri.
	Pupils	Teachers
1885	50	6	41	$ 31.00
1895	60	7	51	45.00
1905	63	9	48	52.00
1915	90	9		85.00
1925	85	10		342.00
1935	122	16		224.00

(Not reported.)

Organized work among the Young People has been carried on for a number of years. The first report of the session to Presbytery on this work was made in 1911 as it reported the work of the Juvenile Missionary Society with 45 members. This organization apparently continued until 1918. From 1918 to 1926 the young people worked through a Junior Christian Endeavor Society. From 1926-1928, two Christian Endeavor Societies existed—Junior and Senior. These were combined from 1929-1931. In 1932 the organization was changed to take the newer form of the Young People of the Church. The Intermediate and Senior groups are organized in one body. Mrs. C. F. Williams has been adult advisor for this group for the four years of its existence and has rendered invaluable service by her tact and untiring services. In addition for a period of about 15 years an organization of children under the name "Busy Bees" and "Willing Workers" was a definite asset.

THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

Some definite organization of the women of the Church seems to have been in existence almost from the beginning of the Church's history. Before the first building was erected in 1844 the "Ladies Aid Society" was very active and under the leadership of Mrs. Susan M. Legare the present site was purchased by this organization. This organization, presumably without a break, continued until September, 1920, when it was decided to adopt the name "The Woman's Auxiliary". Since that time the Auxiliary has carried on the splendid tradition of the "Ladies Aid Society". Outstanding in recent years has been the faithfulness of this group in supporting the benevolent causes of the Church.

THE COMMUNION SERVICE*

"The Communion Service which was used by the Church before and during the war belonged to Dr. Thomas A. Elliott, and was stolen by Sherman's army in 1865.

"On the 16th of April, 1869, Mr. Mortimer Glover presented the Church with a Communion Service and Baptismal Bowl. They were destroyed by fire in February, 1890, when the residence of Mr. George Sellers was burned.

"Another Service was purchased by subscription in 1890. It is now being kept by Mrs. Julian Salley.

"The Individual Communion Service was adopted in March, 1911, and was purchased by the Ladies Aid Society. This is the Service now in use."

THE ORGAN AND THE CHOIR

In the earliest days the music was provided by a melodian. This instrument was sold in 1871 and the money derived used, together with a much larger fund raised by subscription and concerts, for the purchase of an organ. In 1905 after the Church building had been remodeled, Mr. George Cornelson presented the Church with the pipe organ now in use. Prior to this time Mr. Mortimer Glover served as organist. The choir has always been voluntary with the exception of short periods during which one paid voice was in the choir. The choir is now under the direction of Mrs. G. M. Truluck, who untiringly labors with her willing assistants to add to the spirit of worship through song. One of the interesting features at present is the junior choir which regularly furnishes music once a month for the morning service.

(*This item is taken bodily from the History of the Woman's Auxilliary, by Mrs. R. S. Williams, a former Historian of that body.)

RECORDS

For the information of any who in the future may read these pages a list of the permanent records of this Church are given below:

Three (3) books containing the sessional records from the beginning of the Church organization to April 9, 1921. The present record book opened with the meeting of the session held April 10, 1921.

Two (2) small volumes which contain the list of members of this Church from its origin to the present time. A copy of this list is found in the back of this book. The first of the above volumes contains much of the individual Church record of each member listed.

One (1) volume marked "Church Register" which contains a register of the pastors who have served the Church; a register of the Elders and Deacons who have been installed in the history of the Church; a register of communicants from the beginning of the Church's history to January, 1921; a register of baptisms from 1885 to 1920; and a record of a few deaths which occurred in the congregation.

*One volume of the records of the Church Society.

EXPANSION

Under the long and active ministry of the Rev. John L. McLees work was undertaken in outlying towns and communities. In his zeal for mission work his visits took him often to St. Matthews, Branchville and Ellore. In the first two named towns the Presbyterian Churches are monuments to his missionary zeal, and are consequently considered the children of the Orangeburg Church.

MINISTERS FROM MEMBERSHIP

Rev. Peter Gowan, an earnest, forcible and self-denying pastor, was a member of this Church. He studied under the Rev. A. F. Dickson. He was a son of Peter Gowan, Esq., of Charleston, a staunch Scotch Presbyterian.

The Rev. George H. Cornelson, Jr., a son of an Elder of this Church, the late George H. Cornelson, Sr., also went into the ministry from this Church. After completing his theological course in Scotland he returned and rendered invaluable service to the Southern Presbyterian Church in places of prominence and high responsibility. His death in 1927 was a distinct loss to the Church he loved and served so well.

The Rev. Frank Willcock was another member of this Church who later became a minister. In 1891 he removed to Springfield, Mass., and his effective ministry was given to the Northern branch of our Church and the Congregational Church.

(*These records are to be placed for safekeeping with the Presbyterian Historical Foundation at Montreat, N. C.)

CLERKS OF SESSION

The well-kept and preserved records of the Church attest the faithfulness of the keepers of these records. It is a unique fact that in the one hundred years of its history the session has had but three clerks including the present holder of this office. Their names and the years of their service follow:

Name	Date of Service
Dr. T. A. Elliott	1835-1881
Mr. Mortimer Glover	1881-1921
Mr. V. J. Hill	1921-Present

PASTORS AND STATED SUPPLIES

The life of a Church centers about the men who serve it as pastor. The membership of any Church is to a large degree dependent upon the pastor for spiritual guidance and progress. In this connection it is most interesting to note that this Church in the 100 years of its history has had but seven pastors including the present pastor, while only eleven men have ever served the Church as either pastor or Stated Supply. These men, together with the date of their service and their particular relationship to the congregation are as follows:

Name	Date-of-Service	Relationship
I. S. K. Legare	1835-1845	Stated Supply
Thomas H. Legare	1845-1851	Pastor
David X. Lafar	1851-1856	Stated Supply
Benjamin M. Palmer	1856	Stated Supply
George Howe	1857	Stated Supply
A. Flinn Dickson	1857-1860	Stated Supply
A. Flinn Dickson	1860-1868	Pastor
J. D. A. Brown	1870-1881	Stated Supply
J. D. A. Brown	1881-1884	Pastor
Edwin Muller	1884-1888	Pastor
John L. McLees	1889-1925	Pastor
L. B. McCord	1925-1930	Pastor
Frank B. Estes	1931-Present	Pastor

A HERITAGE AND A CHALLENGE

As we have looked briefly into the past history of the Church we have been convinced that we have inherited a splendid institution with a glorious history. The names and achievements of our illustrious forebears are written deep in the records of the Church. This fact presents to us, the living members of this organization, a distinct Challenge to carry on the work which they planned and executed so well.

With gratitude and praise to Almighty God for our history and in humble reliance upon His divine grace we take up the challenge and once more pledge to the Lord Christ our loyalty and love and to His Church our unstinted devotion and service.

ROLL OF MEMBERS

The following members have from the beginning of the Church's history to the present time been admitted to its membership. There may be some errors in names because of the difficulty of reading correctly some of the record. There also occur some few duplications, as when a member has transferred to another Church and later returned to this Church. In the list of colored members which follows the roll of white members the surname of the several owners are added in parentheses.
